Motivation & Concept.

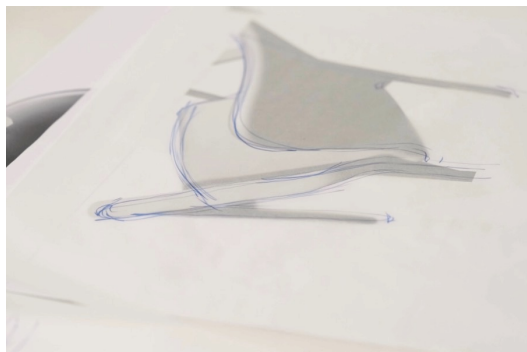

“The intension was to develop a new furniture and chair series for the care sector. Making it less institutional and technical and more homely and friendly. ”

MORTEN HOVE LASTHEIN,
AART DESIGNERS

In addition to features providing stability and safety plus a pleasant feel, the Danish creative team attached great importance to the homely character of feel.

WHAT A feel-ING.

In everyday life, the feel line impresses thanks to its pleasant haptics and the exceptional ergonomics of all components. They are the reason behind the outstanding feel comfort during use and handling.

The secret of the homely feel stacking chairs lies in the supportively shaped, slightly elastic back section. As such, the prominently shaped back welcomes its guest protectively and provides stability just like an embrace.

“When we feel good, we are happier, our health is more resilient, and we recuperate better. This has been researched thoroughly and applies to all stages of life.”

MORTEN HOVE LASTHEIN,

Accessible comfort.

The chair's homely coziness in a Scandinavian-natural look combines the most pleasant feel with barrier-free comfort. Many thoughtful details make life easier – and more relaxed.

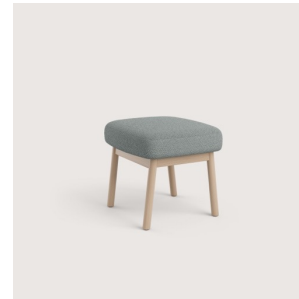

- Wide and flat armrests inspire confidence and provide a standing aid
- The rounded underside of the armrests can be easily gripped, making standing up easier
- The chair is easy to grasp from behind in order to move the chair, even when a patient is seated
- The shape of the armrest perfectly matches the curved lines of the seat shell
- Additional options such as casters and push bars for easier handling

For Care & Living.

At first glance, the clean, simple and elegant feel-design conveys an impression of visual lightness.

At the same time, the chair legs made of solid veneer and laminated wood guarantee reliable stability.

The feel design emphasises the natural beauty of the wood grain. This is especially noticeable in the continuous curve of the armrest.

Enjoy comfort.

The comfortable recliner chair invites you into a safe recreational space thanks to its discreet wings. Optional extras make it especially comfortable: a distinctly user-friendly, infinitely variable reclining mechanism and matching ottoman.

Irresistible Scandinavian feel-good design is moving in.

The versatile, wheelchair-accessible tables provide ample legroom for relaxing and a large variety of different sizes.

Whether small seating groups or large dining tables: numerous dimensions of table tops, in square or rectangular, can be easily combined.

A practical side table rounds off the series. The laminated wood on the legs is reminiscent of the finish on the armrest of the chairs.

Comfort meets functionality.
